

When a Stranger Asks You "Can You Hear Me?" Over Phone, Hang Up!

If anyone rings you and asks, “can you hear me?”, then hang up. Don’t say ‘yes’. Your simple answer to the question would push you into financial trouble.

Scammers are playing a dirty game to make money. They would record your voice saying “yes” to use it as a voice signature for authorizing unwanted charges on your cell phone or other bills.

Scammers would use your voice signature to prove that:

1. You have agreed to upgrade a plan
2. You have agreed to buy a product

How to avoid this scam

1. Never confirm your phone number or bank account details over phone
2. Never answer questions in “yes”.
3. Don’t receive calls from unknown numbers.
